VISUAL ARTIST NOVA COURCHENE

I am an Anishinaabekwe visual artist and muralist based in Winnipeg. My work draws from Indigenous visual storytelling, cultural knowledge, community collaboration, and the relationships between people, land, and place.

My murals and public art have been created for schools, parks, community spaces, and organizations throughout Manitoba. Projects range from independently designed commissions to collaborative work involving students and community members in the painting process.

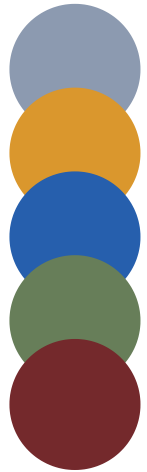

Each project is developed specifically for its site and community. I work with clients to establish the artistic direction, project scope, materials, participation, and installation needs before a final proposal is prepared.
