

VISUAL ARTIST NOVA COURCHENE

Nova Courchene is a proud treaty member of Sagkeeng First Nation, located in Treaty 1 territory. As an Anishinaabekwe visual artist, muralist, and theatre arts educator, Nova is dedicated to creating art that honors Indigenous stories, strengthens cultural connections, and uplifts communities through artistic expression.

Her artistic practice is deeply rooted in the principles of reciprocity, cultural resilience, and the continuity of knowledge. Based in Winnipeg, MB, Nova serves as the Assistant Director of Indigenous Theatre for Youth, an after-school program committed to nurturing the artistic skills and cultural expression of Indigenous youth.

Through her visual art, Nova fosters a profound connection between the time and love invested in creating artwork and the pride it instills within the community. Collaborative mural projects are a vital part of her work, creating opportunities for community members to contribute and see themselves reflected in the art. This process strengthens community bonds and ensures that the artwork serves as a lasting symbol of shared effort, cultural pride, and collective storytelling.
